Caleb is passionate about assisting clients through careful planning, clear communication, and wise counsel. Caleb's years of experience as a practitioner, teacher, and law clerk give him a unique perspective to serve clients by providing advice that is thorough and understandable. Caleb was born in Vancouver, British Columbia, and is a dual citizen of the United States and Canada. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in History from the University of Minnesota in 2008. He graduated magna cum laude from Liberty University School of Law in 2011.

After law school, Caleb served as an attorney in Minnesota, assisting clients with estate planning, business planning and administration, and contracts. After practicing in Minnesota, he entered academia at Liberty University School of Law, where he helped law students understand various complicated areas of the law as an adjunct professor and academic support director. After moving to Raleigh, he worked as a law clerk to Judge Hunter Murphy of the North Carolina Court of Appeals and founded a solo estate planning law firm prior to joining Envisage.

Caleb has been married to his wife Davy since 2008. When he's not at work, you will likely find him golfing, running, or watching his favorite sports (football, hockey, and baseball), often with family and friends.

We exist to help our clients achieve their visions for the future.

We stand shoulder to shoulder with our clients, helping them to anticipate, avoid and overcome challenges and obstacles to their successes.

A Rich Tradition. A Bright Future.
