Carter B. Cole grew up in Cary, North Carolina, where he attended Cary High School and excelled in multiple sports. Carter then took his talents to Campbell University in Buies Creek where he played football, before transferring to North Carolina State University, where he earned a B.S. in Political Science with a minor in Pulp and Paper Technology. After graduating from N.C. State, Carter continued his education by attending the Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law at Campbell University in Raleigh, North Carolina.

While at Campbell Law, Carter was a class representative for Campbell's Student Bar Association, sat on numerous committees, and was actively involved in Campbell Law's nationally ranked Advocacy Program, specifically the Pro Football Contract Negotiations team, where Carter and his team placed in the top 10 nationally. In the classroom, Carter was awarded the prestigious Book Award for earning the highest grade in his Estate Planning class. Carter achieved this while also obtaining a Master of Trust and Wealth Management degree from Campbell University's Lundy-Fetterman School of Business, graduating Summa Cum Laude from that program.

At the culmination of his law school career, Carter was rewarded for his outstanding character and hard work by receiving the 2021 Howard Memorial Christian Citizenship Award, and the 2021 North Carolina Advocates for Justice Student Advocacy Award. Carter's practice at Envisage Law consists of various different practice areas, but his primary focus is on Tax, Estate, and Corporate Planning.

Outside of the practice of law, Carter enjoys spending time with his family and is an avid fan of N.C. State Athletics. When he is not watching the Wolfpack compete or hanging out with his family, Carter enjoys reading, playing tennis, and getting involved in the local community.
